launchpad

1. open to random contribution

pleasantly surprised

translations

anyone can translate anything

Romanian!

anyone can push code to your project

anyone can comment on reviews structured, but open

packaging

anyone can package your software

ppa

daily builds
release builds

2. cross-project collaboration

bugs

one bug affects many things

<<Rhythmbox bug affecting Ubuntu>>

<<same bug affecting rhythmbox package>>

<<same bug affecting package and upstream>>

people

one team, many projects

one person, many projects

connection

code

Launchpad uses Bazaar

bzr rocks

git git git git git git git git git git git git git git git git git git git bsr git git git git git git svn svn svn svn svn svn svn svn svn svn svn svn svn svn svn bsr svn hg hg hg hg hg hg hg hg svn svn svn svn git git git git git git git cvs cvs cvs cvs cvs cvs cvs cvs cvs svn svn svn git git git git git git

we don't care

we still want their code

front-end to open source

forward upstream, responsibly

one-click forwarding?

synchronize bugs

GNOME, KDE → Ubuntu

.pot, .po → database

LP users → database

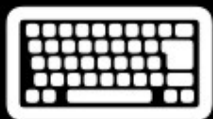

database → patch to upstream

But GNOME doesn't use LP connection, not popularity
